

News Bulletin – 2010 SAAHU Charity Golf Tournament

Golf Magazine calls it one of the "Top 100 Courses You Can Play in the U.S.", ZAGAT says it's one of the "Top 5 Courses in Arizona" and Western Golf Alliance ranked it as the "Best Place to Play in Tucson". It's Arizona National Golf Club, home of this year's SAAHU Charity Golf Tournament!

Friday, April 9th 2010 marks our 11th year of golf tournaments benefiting deserving charities in southern Arizona. Each year we've raised thousands of dollars for charity and this year will be no exception. For the past few years, one of the organizations we've focused on is GaitWay. We believe strongly in GaitWay's mission and have decided to again benefit GaitWay with a portion of our tournament proceeds this April!

There are a number of available sponsorship opportunities and golfer registration is open to the public. With a ton of prizes (and cash) on the table for our golfers this year, great marketing opportunities for our sponsors, as well as the attraction of this great cause, we hope to make this our most successful tournament ever!

Furthermore, SAAHU needs volunteers to help staff the tournament! From help with registration to help with monitoring contests, we can use your help! For more information, registration, sponsorship opportunities or volunteering at this fantastic and worthwhile event, please visit www.saahu.org/golftournament.html, contact Scott Martin at 520-371-8276 sdmoneymartin@earthlink.net, or Becky Kanoza at 520-861-1480 becky.kanoza@blackgould.com.
